"Don't You Believe Him." The Arabs tell a story to show how a mean man's philosophy over-shoots itself. Under the reign of the first caliph there was a merchant in Bagdad equally rich and avaricious. One day he had bargained with a porter to carry home for him a basket of porcelain vases for ten paras. As they went along he said to the man:

"My friend, you are young and I am old; you can still earn plenty; strike a para from your hire."

"Willingly!" replied the porter.
This request was repeated again and again, until, when they reached the house, the porter had only a single para to receive. As they went up-stairs the merchant said:

"If you will resign the last para, I will give you three pieces of advice."

"Be it so," said the porter.

"Well, then," said the merchant, "if any one tells you it is better to be fasting than feasting, do not believe him. If any one tells you it is better to be poor than rich, do not believe him. If any one tells you it is better to walk than ride in your carriage, do not believe him."

"My dear sir," replied the astonished porter, "I knew these things before; but if you will listen to me, I will give you such advice as you never heard before."

The merchant turned around, and the porter throwing the basket down the staircase, said:

"If any one tells you that one of your vases is unbroken, do not believe him."

Before the merchant could reply the porter made his escape, thus punishing his employer for his miserly greediness.

Senator Slater of Oregon says he does not think the recent Republican victory there was brought about by Republican votes. Oh, no, surely not. A Republican victory, you know, never is brought about by Republican votes. It is always caused by Democratic votes.
By there not being enough of them.
